Fuller Yu
Executive Committee Member of Cyber Security Specialist Group, Hong Kong Computer Society and Chief of IT Operartions and Cybersecuirty, Hospital Authority Hong Kong

Fuller has more than 25 years of experience in cybersecurity, technology risk and IT management in global financial services and healthcare sectors. He is now the Chief of IT Operations and Cybersecurity of Hospital Authority Hong Kong driving the corporate IT operations and cybersecurity strategy to power its digital transformation journey. He was the Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) before taking the current role.

Prior to joining Hospital Authority, Fuller held various management roles in cybersecurity and risk management including Director of Technology Risk Management of Credit Suisse, Head of Technology Risk Management and Cybersecurity of AIA Group, and Vice President of IT Risk Management of JPMorgan.

He serves as the Member of IT Discipline Advisory Board of Vocational Training Council (VTC), Member of Information and Communication Technology (ICT) Committee of Hong Kong PHAB Association (香港傷健協會), and Senior Advisor of Hong Kong China Network Security Association (中港網絡安全協會).

Fuller is the Exco Member of Cyber Security Specialist Group, Hong Kong Computer Society (HKCS) to drive at various professional development activities for the Society's members and IT community at large. He is also the Co-Chair of Cybersecurity Workstream of Global Digital Health Partnership (GDHP) which is a collaboration of governments and territories, government agencies and the World Health Organization to support the effective implementation of digital health services.

He graduated from the CityU with BSc(Hons) Information Technology. He also received his MBA and Master in Information Systems Management from Hong Kong University of Science and Technology.

Fuller is a Certified Information Security Manager (CISM) and Certified Information Systems Security Professional (CISSP).